Nature 2 Spa by Zodiac: your questions answered.

1. With Nature 2 Spa, will spa maintenance be different in any way?

Yes. Nature 2 Spa reduces very considerably the need for chemicals and general upkeep. The water is controlled and cleaned as before, but the filter will stay a lot cleaner and it will be very much easier to obtain the right water balance.

2. But do I still need to use chlorine?

You'll need to use a small amount of slow-acting chlorine (dichloro) or MPS which work so as to disinfect the water in synergy with the minerals provided by Nature 2 Spa and oxidise all the particles that are eliminated.

With Nature 2 Spa, we recommend a very low chlorine or MPS content, which won't even be noticed by the people using the spa.

3. When do I need to carry out shock chlorination?

You won't need to do this as a routine preventive measure, but only if the water turns cloudy.

4. Can it be used with other products?

Yes. Nature 2 Spa can be used with most standard products, except for bromine based treatments, or biguanides. If such products are used, empty the spa and fill it with new water.

5. Is Nature 2 Spa a filter?

No. A filter's job is to remove dirt and impurities. Nature 2 Spa cleans the water by destroying bacteria, algae and viruses that are too small to be caught by the filter. You need a combination of the two, a filter plus Nature 2 Spa, with the filter working exactly the same as it would without Nature 2 Spa.

6. Is there anything likely to affect the life of the cartridge?

No. Filtration time, intensive use, high temperatures, none of these things affect the life or efficiency of the cartridge, which remains active for four months in any private spa.

7. Are the minerals safe, even in very small quantities?

The minerals used with Nature 2 Spa are absolutely no threat to health, because they're used in tiny concentrations which never under any circumstances increase (the system uses no electrical power and the minerals are only present in the form of trace elements).
